

There is / There are....

There is (dla liczby pojedynczej) oraz There are (dla liczby mnogiej) używamy gdy chcemy opisać miejsce i rzeczy, które się w nim znajdują

There is	There are
+ There is a plate on the table.	+ There are some plates on the table.
- There isn't any plate on the table.	- There aren't any plates on the table.
? Is there a plate on the table?	? Are there any plates on the table?

There is - There isn't oraz There are / There aren't używamy w znaczeniu polskiego:
Jest - nie ma.

Poniżej dodatkowe przykłady:

There is	There are
+ There is enough bread	+ There are enough bread rolls.
- There isn't enough bread	- There aren't enough bread rolls.
? Is there enough bread?	? Are there enough bread rolls?
